READING IS REWARDING!

Did you know we have lots of rewards in school for reading?

Every read logged is exchanged to house points, these points can be used for buying things in the reward shop or reaching 500 points means a large reward such as ten pin bowling, cinema trip, inflatable fun etc.

We also have the book vending machine for pupils reading.

Pupils who take the online quizzes after every book they have read through their Accelerated Reader account earn tokens each term to exchange for their own book from the vending machine - there are several ways to earn the tokens.

The first three pupils who reach a million words of reading (this is noted by taking the online quizzes after each book) receive prizes such as a kindle, trip to the Marlowe Theatre, their choice of books up to £50 or a voucher etc.

Pupils can be nominated by their class adults each term to win a golden token to spend in the book vending machine.

Writing book reviews and handing them to Miss Wall or the Reading Ambassadors will also earn a golden token to spend in the vending machine.

Every week on the newsletter we also have the percentage of each class for reading three or more times a week, based on those handing in their reading logs, the class gets a certificate and receive a non-uniform day the next Friday.

If the same class win for three or more consecutive weeks the children get to choose three books from the vending machine that they can add to their class library to read.
